

"LOOK A-HERE!"

Said the Big Kentuckian From the Mountains.

Then He Proved to the Stranger That Clay County Is Not So Bad as Some Persons Believe.

From the Courier-Journal.

The gentleman was from Somerset, Ky. The night was warm and he was dallying with a julep in the wet goods department of the Galt House. He was sipping it slowly and was evidently on good terms with himself and the world in general. He had taken his last quaff and was drawing the moisture from the ends of his mustache with his handkerchief when a stranger entered and took a seat at the table opposite him. Both sat a few minutes in silence.

"From Kentucky?" finally ventured the man from Somerset, by way of being sociable.

"Aha," said the man from Somerset, "I represent the other extreme of the State."

"Live near Clay county?"

"No, sir," said the Kentuckian, "but just as leave. Clay county, I reckon is just about as good a county as there is in the State."

"You don't mean to say," remarked the stranger with some degree of surprise and contempt, "that you sanction the deeds of the feudists or sympathize with either faction?"

"Don't mean to say anything of the sort," snorted the mountain citizen, "but a lot of these goll darned fools who talk about mountain Kaintuckians being uncivilized and wuss than Injuns and sech like, why, they order be sent to the lunatic asylum."

"Now, look a here, for instance: Here's two men that hev bin enemies en talked 'bout one 'nother and kinder got mad. They meet. Both pulls guns en the last one throw his finger on the trigger tumbled over. Fair fight, wussn't it? Well, the story gits in the noospapers en the public makes a big howdy do over the matter en, of co'se, we're all desperados and cut throats."

"Why, d-n me," growled he of Somerset, growing red in the face and pounding his fist on the table, "East'n Kaintucky is a big bower of angels compared with some o' the States. Look at Ohio. Up there in Cleveland a lot o' them sneakin' ruffians air a throwin' dynamite at street kyars loaded with women en chilluns. They're pullin' up track en destroyin' millions o' dollars wuth o' prop'ty, en the public looks on en sighs, 'My, the poh wukin' man.'"

"D-n me," he roared again, shaking the tumbler and decanters on the bar until they jingled, "I just see by the noospapers that they're havin' no trouble in the mines in Illinois; not that a posse has shot into a crowd, killin' a lot o' 'em and a woodin' mob. They're civilized, ain't it? En yet the public looks on en says, 'Suved 'em right had no bizness actin' stubbin'.' Ba yet, ef one of the boys up in the mount'ns hez a spite 'gainst some 'un, en lies on his stumck behind a bush waitin' in a gentlemanly sorter way fer a crack at him with a Winchester, the civilized wuld, ez you call it, looks on with horror en says, 'Them mount'ners need railroads and schools; nuthin' else will save 'em.'"

"D-n me, I see in the noospapers that they're bin doin' some mosh lynchin' uv niggahs in the South 'cause they're 'spected of doin' somethin' wrong; en the Coroner sez the niggahs froze to death. Looks nice, don't it; kinder edifying ter the rest o' the wuld. The know alls and wire folks, they say: 'Well, they wuv only niggahs, en they order larn how ter behave themselves. Nice thing, ain't it?'"

"Thunderation! We men up in the mount'ns er goin' ter get up a kind o' society ter the prevention of cruelty to mankind, en we air goin' ter 'stablish headquarters in Clay county en do reg'lar mission wuk, that's what we're goin' ter do, en don't you fergit it!"

And with this the man from Somerset gave the table another good rap and indignantly walked away.

A COUNT OF CUBAN NOSES

Gen. Joseph Sanger Assigned to Take Charge of the Census of Cuba

THE CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN BY CUBANS

It Will Be Done, However, After a General Plan Formulated by the Census Office at Washington and the Final Tabulation of the Counts Will Be Made There.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The secretary of war has directed that the census of Cuba shall be completed by January 1 next, and Gen. Joseph Sanger, of the inspector general's department, will be assigned to take general charge of the work, with headquarters at Havana. Gen. Sanger was in command of one of the military departments of Cuba for several months after the Spanish evacuation, and has been recently engaged in special duty here in connection with the administration of affairs in our insular possessions.

The manner in which the census is to be taken has been practically determined, as a result of numerous conferences held between the Cuban officials and the authorities of the war department and census office.

The immediate taking of the census will be under a Cuban official in each district. Each will have a force of Cuban enumerators, but the number of these is yet to be decided upon. The final tabulation of the counts will be made at the census office at Washington. So far as decided upon, the questions to be asked will be as follows:

Name, age, sex, color, trade, occupation, profession, married or single, or other family relation; sanitary condition of houses, disposal of garbage and of fecal matter, ability to read, to write, ability to speak or understand the English language, and what elementary knowledge makes it probable that this understanding of English will be acquired; nationality, whether Cuban or Spanish, property ownership or rental; area of land cultivated, and kinds of crops; schools and number of scholars in attendance, and number of days attended.

The conferences are still in progress, and may develop change, yet the census will be brought as far as possible within the above scope.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Two dispatches from Gov. Gen. Davis, giving additional details of the fearful havoc wrought by the hurricane of last week, were received at the war department yesterday. They were immediately sent to Secretary Root, who already had taken measures for dispatching relief to the people of the island. The secretary expects the transport McPherson with a large quantity of rice and beans will leave New York to-day and this will be followed by other vessels on fast as arrangements can be made for sending supplies.

STARVATION IN PORTO RICO.

Thousands Will Perish Unless Relief Is Promptly Sent from the United States.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The war department yesterday took prompt measures for the relief of the hurricane sufferers in Porto Rico. When the news dispatches and Gen. Davis' advice made known the extent of the disaster steps were immediately taken to send supplies and the transport McPherson was ordered put in readiness to sail from New York on Monday next. She will carry rations and other necessities.

Secretary of War Root yesterday afternoon sent the following appeal to the mayors of all cities of more than 150,000 population:

"The governor general of Porto Rico confirms the report that upon the eighth instant a hurricane swept over that island, entirely demolishing many of the towns, destroying many lives, and reducing, so far as we can estimate, not less than 100,000 of the inhabitants to the condition of absolute destitution, without homes or food. Unless immediate and effective relief is given these unfortunate they will perish of famine."

"Under these conditions, the president deems that an appeal should be made to the humanity of the American people. It is an appeal to their patriotism also, for the inhabitants of Porto Rico freely and gladly submitted themselves to the guardianship of the United States, and have voluntarily surrendered the protection of Spain, to which they were formerly entitled, confidently relying upon more generous and beneficent treatment at our hands. The highest considerations of honor and good faith unite with the promptings of humanity to require from the United States a generous response to the demand of Porto Rico."

"This department has directed the immediate distribution of rations to the sufferers by the army in Porto Rico, so far as it is within the power of the executive, but in the absence of any appropriation we must rely largely upon private contributions. 'I beg that you will call upon the public-spirited and humane people of your city to take active and immediate measures in this exigency. The government transport McPherson will be sent directly from the port of New York to Porto Rico on Monday, the fourth instant, to carry all supplies of food which can be obtained. Further transports will be sent at future dates, of which public notice will be given."

"Any committee charged with the raising of funds will need all the information and advice on communicating with this department."

Respectfully,

ELIHU ROOT,

Secretary of War.

DESTRUCTION BY STORM.

Two Persons Killed and Several Injured by Lightning and Much Property Destroyed.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—According to dispatches received from points in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin, a great deal of damage was done by Friday night's storm. In some places there was loss of life due to lightning and the loss in crops and destroyed buildings reaches a heavy figure.

Collins, farmhand near Harvard, Ill., struck by lightning.

Stickney, Frank, 17 years, struck by lightning near Janesville, Wis.

Car, John, Harvard, Ill., stunned by lightning.

Knox, Christian, Elgin, Ill., shocked by lightning.

Son and granddaughter of above, stunned by lightning.

Or, John, Harvard, Ill., stunned by lightning.

In many places livestock was killed. A large party gathered in a new barn, preparatory to dedicating it with a dance. Lightning demolished the structure and injured a number of those inside. An ice house belonging to the Kickerbocker, of Chicago, was burned by lightning at Elgin. At Janesville, Wis., the house of L. C. O'Brien was demolished by lightning. All members of the family were absent at a picnic and thus their lives were saved.

At Bossner, Mich., 25 dwellings were moved from their foundations by the wind and flood. Corn and small grain in stack was flattened out everywhere, and the loss to farmers will foot up thousands of dollars.

Annual Pension Report.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Advance sheets of the pension commissioner's report for the month of July, 1899, were 991,519, a decrease of 2,195 over the number for 1898. The important feature of this statement is that the pension roll is growing less, notwithstanding the fact that during the year 37,077 new pensions were granted.

DREYFUS COURT-MARTIAL.

The Case Involving More Than the Fate of a Mere Captain of Artillery.

THAT ONLY AN INCIDENT TO THE TRIAL.

The Real Contest Between Brains Fighting for Humanity, Justice and Faith, and Military Casts Contending for Supremacy—Reviewed the Case by Emily Crawford.

Dreyfus' Lawyer Shot.

Brennes, Aug. 14.—Two men ambushed Maitre Labori, counsel for Dreyfus, and one shot was fired, hitting Labori in the back. M. Labori fell in the roadway. He is still alive.

Brennes, Aug. 14.—The battle has begun in earnest. Its political bearings are shown in the arrest of Paul de Roulede, the deputy, and poet, and 21 of his numerous royalist and Bonapartist allies, who have pooled with him against the republic. As in the Boulangier conspiracy, the pool would be of little consequence but for the military caste, which has found representative men in Gen. De Negrier and some other generals having great commands.

A Strange Specimen.

It is a strange thing how the fight thickened around the shadowy and emaciated re-haired Jew, whose uniform of an artillery captain so ill-fits and betrays his figure and physiognomy.

A Fight to the Death.

Last Monday's sitting of the court-martial and the subsequent non-public sittings were the first skirmishing operations, but Saturday was a field day, in which the two hostile forces met in a pitched battle.

The moral situation of the forces engaged reminds one of the armies of the French revolution and those they had to fight. The Dreyfusites have the brains, the forward impulse, the dash and the flexibility. At the same time they are raw recruits, gathered spontaneously from the four points of the compass. Hatred of the military caste, and it may be, the secret hope of rewards has made them homogeneous.

The nationalists have social and other prestige, numbers and organization. Their center is composed of the majority of Frenchmen and French women. Their left wing is formed of 25,000 officers and their right wing consists of the clergy.

Both Sides Without Scruples.

All profess respect for legality, but only from the lips out. One side is just as unscrupulous as the other, but the most active and less numerous side is the right to fight for the cause of humanity, justice and truth. The Dreyfusites have, at any rate, more belligerent rights, and they are sure of the friendly neutrality of the government.

Their adversaries can no longer make use of the ropes that hang from the razer that cut Henry's throat. The minister of war could not, if he wanted to, read a forged document in parliament. It is impossible now to stuff the dossier with fables fit for Mother Goose's tales. But organization, numbers, prestige and wealth means staying power.

Dreyfus' Financial Backing.

Doubtless the Dreyfusites are supplied with Jewish funds without accepting M. De Freycinet's estimate of 9,000,000 francs. The sums subscribed by English and German Jews must be enormous, but, like wealthy gentiles, rich Jews are fond of the pomp and vanities of life, the titles of aristocratic society. Many of them are frightened already at the onward pace of the Dreyfusites.

Gen. Mercier's Deposition.

Gen. Mercier's deposition was invaluable unless to the judges and shorthand reporters. It fell flat, his voice and delivery being bad. But we have it now in print. It has qualities for which we did not give it credit during delivery. They are easy, flowing statements, plausibility and the art of lulling suspicion. As the deposition appears in full in the reports it will everywhere be read with delight by those already persuaded that Dreyfus is a traitor. They will not see what was feckless; what was the feline people. Figuratively speaking, the deposition, which was really a speech for the prosecution, shows Mercier to be a casuist of the highest order. He never loses his way in the most intricate variations and keeps in view that Dreyfus is a cool, calculating, well-informed traitor.

Only the Beginning of the Struggle.

The immediate issue of the fight is freedom of Dreyfus, but Saturday's incidents and episodes are the beginning of a struggle of far-reaching consequence.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we every had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.

Yours truly, Mrs. George F. Bunker, Liberty, R. I. For sale by the St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; George King, St. Charles.

The Reunion to be held at Evans- ville October 10-13 has grown to such proportions that it will un- doubtedly be the greatest gathering ever held in the State. William Field will leave for the South next week to invite the Governors of the Southern States, General Gordon, Gen. Steven D. Lee, of Mississippi; A. J. West, of Georgia; Ex-Governor Jones, of Alabama, and many other distin- guished participants of the civil war.

There will be many visiting mili- tary companies and Prize Drills, and a Sham Battle will be among the attractions.

Wonderful Discovery.

LUNSFORD, ALA., April 15, 1898. New Spencer Medicine Co.

Dear Sirs—I have been troubled with liver and stomach complaint. I had no appetite and my general health was very bad. I took medicine from four different doctors and they failed to do me any good. I got no relief until I began to use your valuable Nubian Tea. I used about two dollars worth of it, and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have gained thirty-five pounds in weight and my health is very good. I can sleep soundly and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Planter's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any com- munity. Any one who doubts this state- ment can write

Lots of Bugs.

Editor Jim Allen, of the Cyn- thiana Democrat, says: "Few pic- nics have been held this summer, owing to the unusual number of bugs that crawl over one. There are the gold bugs, the silver bugs, the Goebel bugs, the Brown bugs, the Taylor bugs, the Blair bugs, the kissing bugs, the pinching bugs, the humbugs—all, judging from the mudslinging, related to that much despised but very energetic kicker, the tumble bug."

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give such quick relief.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CUNY, Toledo, Ohio. Stay at Home.

From the Lynchburg (Va.) News

Our advice to any capable young man would be, turn a deaf ear to the fascinating stories of rich gold deposits in the Klondike or in South Africa or anywhere else and devote your time and talents to some other pursuit in which suc- cess is more certain and which does not involve so many hard- ships and dangers. The truth is that gold is not the only thing to be desired in this world. It is possible to pay too dear for it in the sacrifice of all the pleasures of society, the comforts of home, physical health and even life itself.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that by a lady in this country. "Dis- ease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she continued to languish and grow weaker, until she was unable to get up. She finally discovered a way to re- cover by purchasing a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. This writes W. C. Hancock & Co. of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at St. Bernard Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Jewett's company has been incorporated under the laws of West Virginia.

The Perfect Foot.

A perfectly formed foot should, according to anatomists, be as long as the bone in the forearm, which extends from the elbow joint to the wrist. This seems to be ab- normally long in a tall person, but is the measurement taken by ar- tists. Of course, arms are some- times out of proportion, being far too short for the general height, but it is rare that an arm is too long for the stature of a person.

From the Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

The small pox scare has com- pletely subsided and about all of the cases in the detention camp in the country have been discharged or are ready to be discharged. There have been no deaths and it is not believed there will be any further trouble with the disease. It is even contended by some that the eruption was not small pox, as some of the cases were not even made sick.

Sam Jones on Ingersoll.

"What do I think of Bob Inger- soll? I have had my opinion pretty well expressed in an editorial com- ment in the Atlanta Constitution. In brief, that editorial said Inger- soll fought in the open and made no pretensions of being other than he was. He did not profess religion to betray it. He struck Christian- ity no blow while pretending to hold its doctrines. But in all his life Ingersoll never did one-half the harm committed by the Briggs, the Potters, the Lyman Abbotts, and others of like kidney have done, are doing and will continue to do. Them's my sentiments.

"I suppose infidelity is progress- ively. Ingersoll began by doubting. Then denied. Then he denounced. He wound up by doubting whether his doubts were doubts or not. Peace to his ashes. I did not gnat with him while he lived, and I will not abuse him now that he is dead. But if he could get back to this country and fill the engagements he made while he was alive, I would like a front seat to hear what he has to say now, with the experience of the past few days added to his original lectures."—Interview with Sam Jones in St. Louis Globe- Democrat.

'Twas at a Musical Party.

(Words and music by C. G. Pfaten- hauer, Op. V.) 'Twas at a musical party, I met a maiden fair. She had dear complexion, blue eyes and golden hair, etc.

Chorus:— A many happy hour together we whiled away. Since that bright happy evening when first heard her play: I fell in love that evening with those blue eyes divine, And later when I saw her home she promised to be mine.

She asked me to assist her, with my violin that night, I chose my composition for she could read at sight.—Chorus, Etc.

Goebel vs. the Temperance Peo- ple.

From the Kentucky Gleaner.

The State Temperance Society, representing the seven leading Christian denominations are out in a circular showing who have been their friends in the legislature.

Among those whose names they mention is that of Senator Goebel, Democratic nominee for Gov- ernor. In speaking of him they say:

Yet no man who has ever been in the legislature at Frankfort has been a more implacable foe to every effort of the temperance people than Mr. Goebel. Never in one single case in all his career so far as is known to your committee has he ever in any way whatever, either by sympathy or act, given the temperance people any help or comfort. In every case when he has been able to strike us he has done it.

It was he who raised the point of order that deadlocked the senate against us in the last legislature. He did this knowing that it would put him in the chair as speaker pro tem, when even against a majority of the senate he could hold us at bay until it would be too late to pass our bill in the other house. He was also one of those who refused to vote in order to break a quorum and thus bring about a deadlock, and when at last we were able to compel a vote he voted squarely against us on the first passage of the bill by the senate.

Here were the prayers of seven Christian denominations for a chance to vote against whiskey, yet Mr. Goebel blocked their way.

Here is one place, Brother Helm, where he was against the "Chris- tian" people, and his acts favored the whisky trust octopus.
